and what have you

by BOB CRAIG

I see where a 2½ billion dollar aid to schools bill has been introduced in Congress to make $30 a year available for each student in the nation. This is deemed necessary by its sponsors because the local school districts and the states are unable to raise the needed money.

The big question in my mind is where does the federal government intend to get the money since its money comes from the same source that the states and school districts do—the public. Since the federal government doesn't have any surplus money and will either have to raise taxes or operate further in the red it would seem that it is in no better shape to give the teachers more money than anyone else.

The main argument against federal aid to education is that it will bring on federal control and create waste, which in the light of everything else the government has become involved in, which is no doubt true. But just to sit back and holler that you don't want federal aid is not enough, the only way to keep the government out of our school systems is to solve our own problems before they become interested. To my way of thinking the reason the government has its fingers in so many things today is that the public has failed to solve the problems locally that they should have. We say we don't have the money to do this or that and let it sit there. Then when the government steps in and takes over we very indignantly say it could have been cheaper here at home.

The following story is prepared by the Tax Institute and points out how the government gets this money that it spends like it was turning out in a machine.

Henry Suburban reaches out at 7 o'clock of a wintry morning to turn off the alarm clock (price $5; tax, 50c). He pushes down the electric blanket (price $28; tax, 84c), climbs sleepily out of bed. He walks across the bedroom floor of his house (price: $12,000; annual property tax, $209) and switches on the electricity, lighting a bulb (price: 33c; tax 2c). To music from a bedroom radio (price: $30; tax, $1.80), Henry shaves with his electric razor (see above). As a radio newscaster reports that Henry's state is preparing to increase income taxes and impose a general sales tax on everything anyone buys, Henry slaps a handful of bay rum (price: $1.30; tax, 13c) across his jowls.

He dresses quickly, hurriedly fastening cuff links (price: $5; tax, 50c) and the clasp (price: $3; tax, 30c) puts on his Swiss wrist watch (price: $60; tax, $6), and rushes down stairs. Tucked under one arm is a leather briefcase (price: $25; tax, $2.50) which carries papers from his real estate office, including one deed (property valued at $3000; stamp tax, $3.30).

In the kitchen he's just in time to snatch two slices of bread (at least 151 hidden taxes) from the electric toaster (price: $16; tax, 48c), lift his coffee from the gas stove (price: $190; tax, $5.70) and grab a glass of fruit juice from the refrigerator (price: $300; tax, $9).

A glance out of the window shows it's begun to snow, so he calls to his wife (marriage license: $2) to telephone (monthly telephone bill: $12; tax $1.20) for a taxi. Too many other people want taxis on a snowy morning, so Henry gets out his own car (price: $2,500; total taxes $518) and drives (operator's license: $3) to the railroad station.

Henry relaxes at the station with a cigarette (price per pack: 13c, tax 15c), lit by a match (tax 2c per 1,000). Aboard the train, he settles down to a hand of bridge with three cronies, using of course, a deck of cards (price: 40c; tax 13c).

In the city on his way to the office, Henry stops to buy a roll of camera film (price: 40c; tax 13c).

BANK DEPOSITS HIT ALL TIME HIGH HERE, $5,664,876.27

Deposits at Farmers and Merchants National Bank reached an all-time high of $5,664,876.27 at the close of business on December 31, 1960. This figure is revealed in the report condition of the bank being published this week.

Deposits in December show an increase of $917,335.11 over the last condition report which was made in October. At the close of business October 3, 1960, the deposit figure was $4,747,541.16.

The increase in deposits reflects the excellent economic condition of Hamlin and the Hamlin trade territory.

Although spirits were damped when the severe hail damage struck the area in October, it seems that the economic situation is considerably improved over what was expected for this period at that time.

December deposits in round figures for preceding years are listed below:

1935	$ 558,000.00
1940	754,000.00
1945	3,430,000.00
1950	5,433,000.00

$3,000 INCREASE IS GOAL OF BCD DRIVE FOR NEW MEMBERS

Faced with the problem of increasing the budget by $3,000 the Membership Committee made the initial step Monday of contacting every business establishment in Hamlin who is not a member of the Board of Community Development to enlist their support in carrying out the broad program for 1961. Heading the committee to raise the money is Fred B. Moore Jr., and Carl Murrell.

Letters were mailed by individual members of the committee urging participation by non-member firms.

Moore said, "Every individual in Hamlin stands to gain by the efforts of this organization and it is only reasonable that they should be asked to help support its program. Every business man who owns his business is here for what Hamlin offers him. If he expects his business to grow with the community, he must join other business, professional, and individuals to plan and insure a healthful growth. Membership in the organization is like an insurance policy . . . in order to have you must keep up the premiums."

Murrell, who is an automobile dealer, said, "I consider my investment in the BCD as important as my investment in my business. It's the department of my business that works to assure me there will be business here five, ten or fifteen years from now. My dues are deducted from my income tax as a business expense and not as a contribution. I personally invite every businessman, professional man or woman, and individuals to join us in our efforts to make Hamlin a better place to live, earn a living and raise a family."

An organizational meeting was held in Bunnie's Drive In last Tuesday to map plans for conducting the membership campaign.

Moore explained that the organization had a surplus prior to hiring a manager and that the budget was not increased in proportion to take care of the additional expense. Other activities of the organization must be carried on in a business-like manner which requires additional expense.

Those serving on the campaign are: L. H. McBride, John Bryant, Wesley Nail, Bob Craig, Arlie Cassle, Bill Harbert, B. M. Brundage, and W. T. Johnson.

New Fire Alarm Siren Installed Here

January 14, 1921

Should you head an unearthly squealing and squawking in the near future do not get scared—it will be nothing but the City Fire Alarm Siren. This is being set in position over the First National Bank and will be operated by a switch in the local telephone office when a fire is reported and also there will be stations at several places in the business section from which the wild cat whistle will be set in motion in case of fire. This electric siren was purchased by contributions from the citizens of Hamlin, at a cost of $500. It was needed. Now we are not dependent on a steam alarm and various other ways of letting the fire boys know that a fire is raging.

Up till last Saturday night, Hamlin has fared well this season in escaping the crime wave that has been going over the country. Sometime Saturday night the Pool-Whittington Co. Dry Goods Store was entered and this fact was learned in the following way: Sunday: About 10:30 Sunday morning City Marshall, Johnson, was standing on the corner at Nobles Bros. Wood Co. and observed three negro men coming up the street with four large new suit cases which appeared to be heavily loaded and at once the ever suspecting Marshall got it into his head that the said negroes were carrying too many new suit cases and said suit cases were too heavy for ordinary travel. He started toward the men and the dust under their heels got hot and a wild break was made east towards the road. As the fellows passed the Orient tracks they threw the cases over into a flat car and continued their flight. Johnson secured the services of John Ed Day and his Buick car and gave chase. The men scattered, one out ran the Buick, and the other

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas motorists soon will be "seeingred" when they approach highway construction projects.

State Highway Department announced that the signalmen who direct traffic around construction projects will start wearing fluorescent red nylon vests and waving flags of the same bright material. Use of the new material has been adopted as an additional safety measure since it will be more visible, day and night. At night, flares will be used also.

Same signals will be used by the flagmen. Flag-holding arm fully extended horizontally means "stop." Movement of the flagman's free arm means "proceed."

LAKE SUCCEEDS STEAKLEY—P. Frank Lake is new secretary of state, succeeding Zolzie Steakley.

Steakley was appointed associate justice of the State Supreme Court.

Lake served as assistant secretary of state under Steakley for the past four years. An attorney, he formerly lived in Tyler. He is a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve, retired; married and the father of four children.

POLL TAXES DUE—Texans have until January 31 to pay the poll tax that will enable them to vote in 1961 elections.

Despite 1961's being an off-year, a major election will be held this year. U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson ended his 12-year career in the Senate by submitting his resignation to Governor Price Daniel on the opening day of Congress.

Daniel appointed William A. Blakely of Dallas to serve until a successor is elected this spring. A special election to fill the office for the remainder of the term will be held April 4. If no candidate receives a majority in the first election, a run-off will be held from 30 to 40 days later.

In the last special senatorial election in April, 1957, there were 23 candidates. Same sort of crowded field is expected this year with enough activity to give every tax payer his $1.75 worth.

INAUGURATION CEREMONY—Tuesday, January 17, Gov. Price Daniel and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey will be inaugurated. Since it is a third term for

NEW INSURANCE CHAIRMAN—Former District Judge Thomas C. Ferguson of Burnet has been named chairman of the State Insurance Board by Governor Daniel.

Ferguson succeeds another district judge, Penn J. Jackson, who has returned to his bench in Cleburne.

New board chairman is also a former newspaperman, deputy district clerk, member of the Texas House of Representatives, mayor of Burnet and county judge. As he begins his service on the Insurance Board, one of the most pressing problems before it is whether to revise auto insurance rates.

WATER PROGRAM TARGETS SET—Reorganization of the State Board of Water Engineers after the pattern of the State Highway Commission has been proposed by Governor Daniel.

Daniel advocated separating the engineering services under a chief engineer from the semi-judicial functions of the Board. He made the proposal before a pre-legislative meeting of the Statewide Water Committee.

Committee, composed of laymen to help in development of a state water program, endorsed broader lending authority for the State Water Development Board. At present, the Board can grant loans to subdivisions for 1/3 the cost of a water project or $5,000,000 whichever is less. A $15,000,000 maximum is recommended by the Committee.

CHURCH-SCHOOL CONFLICT APPEALED—A group of Bremond citizens is appealing to the State Board of Education in protest of what it regards as a violation of church-state separation.

Bremont School District leases a Catholic Church-owned school building for use as a public elementary school and uses Catholic nuns as teachers.

This arrangement has been a source of local controversy for some years. Finally, a group of Protestant citizens brought the case before State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar.

Dr. Edgar said he had no authority to prohibit the school board's hiring nuns, but he strongly urged the district to get a school district-owned building.

Seeking more vigorous action, the protestants appealed to the State Board.

Two elections to approve Bond issues to build an elementary school in Bremond have failed. Bremond, a town of about 1,100, is located 70 miles southeast of Waco in Robertson County.

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C.—WITH A NEW YEAR, a new Administration and the opening of a new Congress, comes this first newsletter. It is hoped readers will find an interest each week in this column which will attempt to report on matters in Washington.

PROBABLY THERE ARE AS MANY UNSOLVED and unresolved issues facing the new Congress as has ever been faced by any in the history of our country. Not only the issues which may be identified as normal, but also those which have not been met and resolved by the outgoing Administration.

FAIRLY EARLY IN THIS SESSION of the Congress will be proposals to increase the rate and coverage of the Minimum Wage Law. In line for consideration in the near future will be legislation for more Federal aid for school construction, which may include money for teachers' salaries. Following close behind will be a revised version for Medical Aid for the Aged supported by Social Security taxes, and economic assistance for the so-called Depressed Areas, and a new measure for more Government Housing which will include loans and insurance.

ALL THIS AND MORE is on the "must" list of the new administration. Some things are on the "must" list, not because of choice, but because of the world conditions. This is the matter of dealing with the Cuban situation, the inroads of Communism in Latin America, the instability in Africa and Southeast Asia, and other areas where rapid changes are now occurring.

THEN, PROBABLY ABOVE ALL IMPORTANCE, is to reconstitute our position in the world. Of one thing we can be fairly certain; a most intense effort will be made early in the Administration to guarantee the strongest military establishment of any nation on earth. The proposition that we must deal with, strength is a strong sentiment in this Administration. At the same time, sight will not be lost of the tremendous importance of trying to keep the peace and to work towards some plan of world disarmament. With nuclear weapons being made possible by other countries such as France, and even little Israel, it can be assumed that Communist Red China will soon have the capacity of exploding an atomic bomb.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

SHE WANTS TO BE DUMB, POOR AND HAPPY

Dear Amy:

I am nineteen years old and am being made to attend college against my own wishes. Do you think a person should be forced into furthering his education? I feel as though I'm wasting my parent's money!

This past summer I went steady with a boy whom I met at work. The main problem now is that he is attending school in another state. All I want is to be with him. I don't want to be smart and a millionaire; I just want to be dumb, poor and happy.

Disgusted

Dear Disgusted:

It's fine to know what you want but what does your steady want? Since he is the guy you want to be 'dumb, poor and happy' with, find out if he shares your feelings (or those of your folks). I suspect he wants to finish school and would think more of you if you did. Widen your horizons. There's an M.R.S. at the end of the rainbow!

Dear Amy:

I always read your column and I hope you can help me. I am sending you a clipping from my local paper. Amy, this is the kind of a man I am looking for. He signed himself 'Lonesome.' That's the way I am. I have been a widow two years (married one time). I would like to write to this man. I work every day and I seldom get out. I don't like to go alone. I live with my daughter and she and her husband go out a lot. I could go along but middle-age people just don't fit in the younger group. If you can help me, there will be an extra star in your crown because when God made the world, He made Adam and also He made him a help-mate. People weren't meant to be alone in this wonderful land of ours.

Lonely

Dear Lonely:

'Lonesome' did not include his name and address in his letter to me. Therefore I can be of no assistance to you or the hundreds of other women who wrote concerning him. Perhaps 'Lonesome' will read this column and fill in the details.

Dear Amy:

My mother and I are having a serious argument. She says that the average teen-ager should be in the house at 8 p.m. and I say the average teen-ager should be in at least 9:30 p.m. Since the curfew is 10:30 (in our town) I disagree with her very much. I live in a decent neighborhood. When I go out with my friends the most we ever do is take a walk to the library or we just walk around the neighborhood. We dress like gentlemen so the neighbors don't get the wrong impression. Please give me your opinion.

Almost everyone in my neighborhood reads your column so I hope you will print this letter in the hope that other teen-agers' mothers will realize this and treat us like young men.

Non-hoodlum

Dear Non-hoodlum:

It depends on the age of the teen-ager (you failed to tell me your age). Eight p.m. is late enough for 13 or 14 year-olds... especially on school nights. Responsible 15 to 17 year-olds should be given the privilege of returning home later. Boys with too much time on their hands have a knack of getting into mischief and this is what neighbors have in mind.

Dear Amy:

We would like to know what would be the best appropriate (and modestly priced) present to give a girl who celebrates her birthday and her engagement on the same day. She is our God child.

Mr. K.M.

Dear Mr. K.M.:

A piece of lingerie (which can be purchased for under ten dollars) is personal enough for her birthday and a nice addition for trousseau.

PERSONAL TO DESPOT:

He made his intentions perfectly clear. Unless you are willing to accept him on his terms (and I wouldn't advise it), leave well enough alone.

Please address all letters to: AMY ADAMS c/o THIS NEWSPAPER For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Chocolate Crunch Ice Cream Pie

Try Chocolate Crunch Ice Cream Pie the next time you want an elegant dessert that is really quite simple to make. Make it early in the day and store it in your freezer until shortly before serving time. Remove it from the freezer a short time before serving to allow it to mellow and facilitate serving.

Even a beginner can be assured of success with this recipe. It's so simple to make. The chocolate syrup is poured over the oven-toasted rice cereal until the cereal is completely coated. Press this mixture into a buttered 9-inch piepan, fill with vanilla ice cream and presto, your pie is finished. For extra elegance, serve with praline sauce, which you can either make or purchase. This is but one exciting illustration of creative cookery with breakfast cereals. Breakfast cereals make contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy, when used as a recipe ingredient.

Chocolate Crunch Ice Cream Pie With Praline Sauce

1/4 cup light corn syrup 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine 1 package (6 ounce) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 tablespoons light brown sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups oven-toasted rice cereal 2 pints vanilla ice cream

Combine corn syrup, butter or margarine, sugar, and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil over low heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat; add chocolate and vanilla, and stir until chocolate melts. Add to cereal; stir carefully until cereal is coated. Press evenly over bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch piepan. Chill. Fill with ice cream. Store in freezer. Serve with Praline Sauce. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Study Club Meets With Mrs. Tommy Davis, 14 Attend

Mrs. B. O. Bell, president, presided for the business meeting. Mrs. Cecil Sellers, announced that contributions had been sent to the following Federation projects: Headquarters Endowment Fund, Headquarters Maintenance Fund, Latin American Scholarship Fund, Penny Art Fund and Musical Penny Fund.

For a local project the club voted to send a box of toilet articles and used clothing to the Korean orphanage in Pusan.

Mrs. Dale Lain was moderator for a round table discussion. Questions were asked and a lively discussion was held on each subject. Topics for discussion were: Rest homes, are they good or bad? Mental hospitals, is that the answer? Legislation, why do we need it? Golden agers club, could Hamlin benefit by such a club.

Coffee and cookies were served to 14 members.

Hints Given by County Agent on Care of Plants

Proper care will keep those Christmas plants looking lovely longer. Here are some pointers suggested by Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent.

Avoid drowning or water-logging plants by watering too often. On the other hand, remember that indoor atmosphere dries plants quickly. Follow directions for watering given with each plant. Drainage is important, too. If the pot is wrapped in metal foil, it may be necessary to cut a small hole in the bottom of the foil cover.

A potted cyclamen will bloom for several months if kept at a temperature of 65 to 68 degrees where it can get morning light. Never allow soil to dry out completely while the plant is blooming. When it starts to lose leaves, allow the soil to become drier than in the growing season but not powder dry. Some moisture must be present to keep the corn from drying up completely. Store in a dry cool dark place to carry it over a second season.

African violets need a sunny window during the middle of winter but can be put in the shade about the last of February. Let the soil get dry before watering, and then use several degrees warmer than room temperature.

Primroses need abundant light in winter and do best at about 65 degrees. Too much watering rots them, but they should not be allowed to dry out completely.

The Jerusalem cherry and ornamental pepper like cool temperatures, high humidity plenty of sunshine. Smoke or gas in the room will cause the leaves to drop.

Poinsettias will stay attractive for most of January if kept at temperatures around 65 degrees. Let them dry gradually and then plant outdoors.

Good Neighbor HD Club Installs New Officers Tuesday

The Good Neighbor Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. L. R. Faulkenberry for the installation of officers.

Coffee and cupcakes were served to eight members and five guests.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. James Brown, Tuesday, January 24, when a white elephant sale will be held.

Mrs. Hennington's Room Wins Count At P-TA Meeting

The Hamlin Parent-Teachers Association met for the January meeting in the primary cafeteria at 4:00 p.m. Thursday.

The invocation was given by Don McCamish, pastor of the Foursquare Church. Mrs. Gerald Young, president, presided. Mrs. Bill Shira gave the thought for the month.

The rain is still the big news out our way, this time the rain gauges measured about two and one half inches. The fields were still too wet to work so the farmers will really have a long rest now.

Attendance was light at church Sunday morning as some were sick and some were mud bound.

O. L. Jenkins has been sick the past week, we hope he is soon feeling his usual way again, which is like a younger man than he is.

W. L. Fletcher is still in the hospital at this writing but hopes to be home soon, as he is improved.

Lynn Gabriel has been in the hospital but is home now, she will have to take it easy for a few more days.

Mrs. Joe Ford has also been on the sick list the last week. Winslow Gray and H. L. Ford went to Abilene last Tuesday to the stock sale.

Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Combs and children, visited last Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herrington of Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clift, Sweetwater, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum on Sunday night of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Clift are teachers in the Sweetwater schools and lived with the Rosenbaums many years ago, when they taught in the McCauley school.

Mr. and Mrs. Flavel Holmes went to Abilene Monday afternoon to see Mrs. Billy Holmes, a patient in the Cox Memorial hospital.

Little Melinda Kay Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright was ill Sunday.

Mrs. Neal Chastain, Spur, spent several days with her mother, Mrs. Fletcher, while her dad was in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joiner Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Jones spent Sunday with their son, Ma. and Mrs. Rex Jones and Mark, of Abilene Sunday.

Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin, Linda and Mrs. Doyle Combs went to the hospital Friday night to see Lynn Gabriel.

The pastor and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Newland.

The W. M. U. met last Tuesday morning with Mrs. Doyle Combs. We are ashamed to tell how many were present, but hope that since the holiday rush is over and a new year is well on its way, that the women of the church will come out to W.M.U. and enjoy the programs with us, also the fellowship together.

The Fairview church is going to put on a new look. Since the damaging hail the members have been planning to repaint the outside and inside, so last Sunday plans were completed and turned over to a committee. Last Thursday the five men selected made arrangements for the work to be started this week. The plans call for a new roof on one side, painting the outside, and repairing, repainting the walls and ceiling of the auditorium. The color inside will be changed and more charges are in the planning stage for the front of the building, inside, to be done later.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Jones had a 42 party Friday night in their home. Those enjoying the games were, Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Flavel Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Newland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joiner and Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

19th IN 1950--

TEXAS TEACHER PAY SCALE RANKS 34th IN NATION

Austin, Texas—Texas is not even average in the amount it spends on public schools, and the Texas State Teachers Association fully expects that the 57th Legislature will do something about it.

And Texas still will fall below average in education expenditures even if the 57th Legislature enacts the full TSTA-Hale-Aikin school program, the association's president pointed out.

Those enjoying the games were, Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Flavel Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Newland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joiner and Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Latest national figures show Texas in 35th place among the states in the average spent per child and 34th in average teacher salary.

Only prompt and decisive action by the Legislature can stem the steady decline in Texas' position," explained TSTA President D. Richard Bowles.

TSTA, relying on what the public said it wanted for schools in the Hale-Aikin study more than two years ago, is calling for school improvements estimated to cost $80 million yearly in State funds.

Major items in the TSTA program are increases in teacher pay, school bus allowances, and maintenance and operation aid. Several other items are included also.

This year Texas will spend an average of $330 per child in average daily attendance at school, $60 per child below the national average of $390, Bowles noted.

The TSTA program would add $42.50 per child more, bringing the Texas expenditure up to $372.50 per child, still below the national average.

The governor's finance advisory commission's recommendations would increase expenditures by only $13.50 per child up to $343.50, leaving Texas far behind the effort of other states.

Average pay for Texas teachers ranked 19th in 1950, just after enactment of the Gilmer-Aikin Minimum Foundation Program, Bowles said. Now, ten years later, Texas ranks 34th, $725 below the national average.

Just five years ago, in 1955-56, Texas had dropped to 22nd position in average salary. The next year it was 24th. In 1958-59 Texas had slipped to 28th, and last year fell off to 32nd place. Now it has skidded still further to 34th.

TSTA is asking that the State minimum salary schedule, now at $3,204, be raised to $4,014. This would put Texas at about the present average, but other State legislatures are meeting this year and no doubt will make further strides ahead of Texas.

All surrounding states except Arkansas are above Texas in average pay, leaving this state vulnerable to "raiding" from its neighbors.

"This story of erosion in the teacher salary scale necessarily is reflected in the classroom," declared the TSTA president.

"Thousands of bright young people educated in Texas-supported schools either choose remunerative work over teaching, or they go to some other states which offer them more of the coin of the realm," Bowles said.

"This is something to concern every citizen in Texas—not just teachers," Bowles declared.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Absher spent Sunday visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lott L. Shell Jr., in Abilene, Texas.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

A question often asked by deer hunters on their first hunt is "Should I get out and move around or should I find a good stand and wait the deer out?"

Old timers know the answer. It depends on the situation and conditions. Usually it's best to get on a promising stand and remain there.

By a good stand I mean one in range of a well-beaten trail or near a scrape or rut. The hunter must be able to see well enough to spot an approaching animal. At the same time he should be concealed so that the animal will not spot him first.

Camp operators, land owners, and biologists working management areas, report that the one big reason why hunters miss then chances for bagging deer is that they move around too much. Hunters just don't stay out.

A well seasoned whitetail-deerhunter will admit that he must have lots of patience. The hunter who can stay glued to a spot just off a heavily traveled deer trail or a fresh scrape usually will get his deer.

If you stop and think about it this makes sense.

First if you know whitetails, you know that they beat out trails from one area to another. When moving about, they usually follow one of these trails.

At night, they bed down where they can keep warm. In the early morning hours they arise and move about, feeding here and there.

The trails zig-zagging through a range are their highways, their farm-to-market roads. Nearly always, if a hunter finds one of these turnpikes he should pick out a spot—either in a tree or behind cover—where the wind will blow his scent away from the trail. Then sit quietly and motionless.

Deer are quick to notice anything unnatural, especially if it moves. So, if you must move, move slowly.

I have missed lots of deer simply because I moved just as a nice buck stepped into sight. Deer have a reputation for appearing out of nowhere. This means that few noises are made by traveling whitetails.

I have talked with a number of hunters who were so surprised by the sudden appearance of a beautiful buck that they froze in their tracks. They couldn't even lift the rifle to fire until it was too late.

It might ease the conscience of these hunters to know that very few big game hunters can remain completely relaxed when leveling their sights on a trophy animal. But they don't get so jittery that they miss an easy shot.

When you square off the cross hairs of a scope on a deer, try to visualize a target with a bulls-eye in the center. In most cases the bulls-eye is just behind the shoulders. When the hairs are lined up on that spot, squeeze the trigger and it's all over. Or at least it should be.

A scope is not a must. In fact, in the heavy brush country of South Texas the scope can cause many misses. In such country a light, short barreled rifle without a scope is the best bet.

In heavy brush, and especially during the rutting season, bucks

1961 MERCURY MONTEREY 2-DOOR HARDTOP

TRADITIONAL MERCURY COMFORT Only Mercury has Cushion-Link Ride (standard on Monterey and Meteor 800)—a unique suspension system that absorbs jolts and jars that come through to you in other cars. It "gives" backward and forward as well as up and down. And Mercury has a longer wheelbase (120 inches) and greater weight (up to 241 pounds heavier) than other cars in its price range. Result: you enjoy a smooth, solid, steady big-car ride you'd expect to pay much more for. There's plenty of stretch-out room in Mercury, too—even more rear seat hip, shoulder and head room than in last year's spacious Mercury. Wider doors and more trunk space, too.

TRADITIONAL MERCURY VALUE There's extra value in Mercury's engine choice—all the way from the Super Economy "6" (Mercury's first "6") to the powerful Marauder V-8's. Several Local Citizens Receive Rambler Bonds

Several customers of Carmichael Buick-Rambler-GMC Co. will receive U. S. Savings Bonds with a total maturity value of $25.00 because they purchased new Ramblers during December, Gene Westmoreland, the firm's manager, announced today.

The bonds will be sent to them automatically by American Motors Corporation.

Under AM's Progress Sharing program Rambler buyers receive bonds as national Rambler sales increase between December and March 31. For a 10 per cent monthly increase, buyers will receive $25 bonds and if the cumulative gain goes to 50 per cent each buyer will receive $125 in bonds. Ends of each month in which sales increase over a year ago. Should cumulative sales go up further between now and March 31, the December buyers will receive additional bonds, Westmoreland said.

If the minimum increase is made in the four-month period American Motors will spend $2.8 million for bonds and if the maximum gain is made the expenditure would total $18.7 million.

He said customer reaction "is the greatest I've seen in my time in the automobile industry."

Westmoreland said the program was started by George Romney, president of American Motors, to "give a further lift to rising Rambler sales volume by sharing nearly all of the economies of the gain with the customer."

Total Rambler in December climbed to $34,324, a 13.8 per cent gain over 1954. Sales of Carmichael Buick - Rambler - GMC Co. were up 33 per cent in the month.

left Saturday to go to Hubbard to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hatley and two of her brothers, C. D. and J. W. Hatley, and their families.

Another brother of Mrs. Gilbreath's, Mr. Floyd Hatley and family of Pampa visited them on Tuesday.

'ESTHER AND THE KING' TO OPEN SUNDAY AT ROGUE

The sweep and dazzle of Old Testament spectacle, the passion and tenderness of a deeply human and timeless love story, the violence and thunder of barbaric men at war... these are the elements that make sure-fire box-office of "Esther and the King." 20th Century - Fox CinemaScope EastmanColor release, opening Sunday at the Rogue Theatre with stars Joan Collins, Richard Egan, Denis O'Dea, Sergio Fantoni and Daniella Rocca.

Produced and directed in Rome by Raul Walsh, this action-packed drama brings to audiences of all faiths a tale they have known since childhood: the biblical legend, based on the Book of Esther, of the beautiful Hebrew maiden who, in the year 400 B. C., was chosen as the bride of mighty Persian King Ahasuerus and who, through love and a fearless dedication to justice, was able to save her entire people from destruction at the hands of the tyrant Haman.

Snatched from her home in Judea by royal horsemen on the eve of her marriage, Esther (Joan Collins) wretchedly and against her will becomes a candidate for the role of Queen of Persia. Former Queen Vasti (Daniella Rocca) has been murdered as an adulteress and the King must select her successor from among the loveliest virgins of his land. The "Beauty Contest," perhaps the first such in history, is won by Esther. A long and tender courtship follows, and the ruthless king becomes a transformed personality under the influence of this girl and her extraordinary sense of justice.

Memorable love-scenes, in which the King tries to win Es-

Arriving eventually at the office, Henry sighs (no tax) and settles to a day's work (annual income: $7,500; Federal and state income tax, $986). If he works hard for the rest of his life, he will be able to provide the government with a handsome slice of inheritance tax. And if he dies in a state that is fiscally tolerant, he can take comfort in the thought that his casket—provided it costs less than $100—will be exempt from any sales tax.
